NEWS FROM THE FOREIGN CAPITALS

LIBAU, RUSSIA, March 16.-The American steamer Indiana, flying the American flag, steamed into the harbor to-day. She is laden with provisions for the relief of the starving Russian peasantry. Soon after the news of the arrival of the Indiana had reached Libau the Russian cruiser Strasch, commanded by Captain Davidoff, having on board J. M. Crawford, the American Consul at St. Petersburg; Count Bobrinskiof, chief of the famine relief committee; Mr. Bornholdt, American Consul at Riga; the President of the St. Petersburg Bourse, and other notable persons, proceeded to welcome her. Flags were flying on all the vessels in the harbor and the wharves were crowded with enthusiastic people. The warship was followed by the steamer Concordia, which had on board the Bourse Committee and a large number of guests. As the vessels neared the Indiana a military band played "The Star Spangled Banner, and a salute was fixed. The gentlemen fro the Straseh and Concordia boarded the Indiana and speeches of welcome and thanks

A dispatch from Philadelphia says. Mayor Stuart to-day received the following cablegram from the committee of citizens sent to Russia to superintend the distribu-tion of the cargo of flour and provisions taken from this port for the relief of starying Russian peasants:

ing Russian peasants:

The arrangement proposed by Minister Smith for the distribution of cargo is excellent. It will be shipped in 220 Russian carloads to ten provinces, comprising 43 districts, consigned to carefully-selected, trusty persons, who will see to the proper distribution. The destitution in Samara province baffles description. We therefore put 40 Russian carloads of flour here for immediate shipment, as, after the breaking of the ice in the Volga, the province cannot be reached for weeks. We had interview with the Minister of the Imperial Household, who is Vice President of the Russian committee, yesterday. Russia is deeply grateful, he states. The distress is not exaggerated, and any American contributions are heartily welcome. Distress must naturally increase as the season advances. We advise, therefore, sending other cargoes. A hundred thousand horses, from official information, have starved in Voronej province. Send Iowa corn to save horses and cattle, or farming will be impossible, consequently the famine will be repeated. Telegraph Mayor Washburne, the Chicago Board of Trade and other places, to help humanity. The Indiana is expected shortly.

MAY RESUME MONDAY.

Whether the Mine Strike Is to Last One o Two Weeks Is Not Decided.

LONDON, March 16,-The delegates to the meeting of the Miners' Federation today held a private conference in this city. Their decision as to the time the holiday of the miners will continue has been deferred until to-morrow. A majority of the delegates are in favor of resuming work on Monday. The prices of coal have declined in London and Manchester, and there promises to be a heavy reduction before Monday. The conference adopted a resolution which, while sympathizing with the relatives of those who lost their lives by the appalling accident in the Anderlues colliery, expressed regret that women and girls should be employed in the mines of The Cumberland and Lancashire men are anxious to resume work on Monday, but the Yorkshire men want a fortnight's holiday. The Durham men are determined not to submit to their masters, many of whom are, also, desirous of clearing off the stock they have on hand at present and are in no hurry to resume operations in the mines. A cable dispatch from Berlin says: Herr Schroder, the leader in the Westphalian strike of 1890, is trying to agitate the question of a limitation of the output of coal in this country for the purpose of helping the English miners. There are little signs, however, of the success of his scheme.

MORE ANARCHIST PLAYTHINGS

Discovered by Means of Search Warrant in the Hands of Paris Police. Paris, March 16. - Additional search warrants of suspected anarchists' houses have been issued, and the police are making a thorough search of the places known to be occupied by anarchists. Thirty-five lodgings have already been closely examined, and five of the occupants have been ar-rested. The search is still going on.

As a result of the rigorous search a discovery has been made which may possibly lead to the detection of the persons concerned in the various explosions which have recently occurred here. The police overhauled a collection of articles which were evidently intended to be used in the manufacture of explosive machines. The officers were making an examination of a certain house, and while searching some rooms they discovered a quantity of cyanide of potassium and a number of electric coils and cartridge cases. They were found in the rooms of an Anarchist living at St. Denis, a town in the Department of Seine, 534 miles north of the center of Paris. A bomb fully charged with the deadly explosive was also discovered in the house occupied by an Anarchist in the Faubourg St.

The Pork Wasn't Salted Enough.

PARIS, March 16 .- Mr. Reid, the United States Minister, has received from United States Consul Williams at Havre, complaints regarding the seizure of a few pieces of pork in a shipment of 150 boxes by Armour & Co. The French inspectors proposed that the pieces of pork be destroyed. Armour & Co., however, protested. It was not charged by the inspectors that the meat in question was infected with triching, but install that it had a the property of the company of the simply that it had not been sufficiently salted.

Belgian Anarchists Se LIEGE, March 16 .- In the Criminal Court here to-day three Anarchists, who were charged with breaking into a powder mill and stealing 500 pounds of dynamite and with afterward attempting to blow up the magazine, were found guilty. One of them was sentenced to 15 years and the other two each to 12 years' penal servitude.

A DUEL TO THE DEATH

Fought by De Mores, the Famous French Politician, and M. Isaac, a Governmen Official-The Latter Will Probably Die From a Sword Thrust.

PARIS, March 16 .- A duel was fought this morning between the Marquis De Mores and M. Isaac, the Sub-Prefect of Fournes. The cause was a letter which the Marquis published some time ago, reflecting upon the character of M. Isaac. Isaac was dangerously wounded in the right breast, and great ously wounded in the right breast, and great loss of blood caused the seconds to forbid the duel proceeding.

Ever since the Fourmies riots, when the military, at the instigation, it is claimed of M. Isaac, fired among the working people, killing and wounding women and children, as well as men, M. Isaac has been the object of frequent and bitter attack on the part of the Socialists. He was upheld by M. Constans, and this was one prominent cause of that Minister's unpopularity, and indirectly of the disruption of the Cabinet and the rejection of M. Constans by the new Premier, M. Loubet.

The information that the Marquis had

The information that the Marquis had chosen swords as the weapons, was not agreeable to Isaac, but he accepted the terms and authorized his seconds to arrange the and authorized his seconds to arrange the preliminaries. From the first the Marquis pressed the fighting. Isaac held his own bravely, but was no match for the skill and impetuosity of his antagonist. The Marquis evidently meant to kill, and Isaac knew it. Both men kept their presence of mind, or the fight would have ended at once; for the Marquis was ready to take advantage of the slightest slip on the part of Isaac, who showed a skill that encouraged his friends, and seemed to astonish de his friends, and seemed to astonish de

It-was by a skillful feint that de Mores succeeded in disabling his man. He made a thrust as if at the left breast, and as Isaac a thrust as if at the left breast, and as issue made a motion to parry the blow, de Mores, with almost inconceivable swiftness, struck fiercely and forcibly to the right, plunging his weapon into the breast of Isaac. The latter staggered, the blood pouring from the wound. He held to his sword, and made a motion to attack de Mores again. The latter that the latter stage of the latter stage of the latter stage. ter stood calm and turning to his second asked for a cigar. This was handed to him, and, lighting it, he quietly smoked while the condition of Isaac was being examined.

ENGLAND'S GAME LAWS DOOMED.

The Execution of Two Poachers To-Day

LONDON, March 16 .- At the Aylesbury Assizes February 23 Charles Raynor, Frederick Egglestone and Walter Smith were tried for the murder of Joseph Crawley, a gamekeeper at Pittstone, December 12, 1891. A second indictment charged them with the murder of William Puddephatt, another gamekeeper, at the same time and place. Raynor and Egglestone were found guilty of willful murder and sentenced to be hanged March 17. Smith was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to 20 years' penal servitude. The accused were poachers, and the killing took place in a struggle to escape from the gamekeepers.

Application was made to Rt. Hon. Henry Matthews, the Home Secretary, for a re-prieve, but he refused to interfere in the matter. This refusal has caused intense public agitation. Robert Buchanan, the well-known writer in verse and prose, sent letters to the newspapers declaring that the execution of the condemned men would be judicial murder. Petitions were sent from Birmingham and other places bearing thou sands of signatures, and presented to the Home Secretary, praying him to take action in the case, but he remained obdurate. The Radical papers charge Mr. Matthews with assenting to the executions as a vindication of the game laws. The outcome of the affair will be a general onslaught on the game preserves act. The executions are fixed for to-morrow,

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS KILLED

In an Encounter With a Body of Austrian Troops on the Frontier. VIENNA, March 16 .- A dispatch from Wieliczka, in Galicia, states that a conflict occurred there to-day between a number of Austrian and Russian soldiers and that two of the Russians were killed. The affair has created the most intense excitement among the Russian frontier guards, and they threaten to take revenge for the death of their countrymen. The Austrian gendarmes have been ordered to exercise the strictest vigilance on the frontier.

The details received of the unfortunate affair are very meager, but it is thought here that it was the result of a drunken carousal. Another report locates the oc currence at Mielnica.

AFTER REV. BURRELL

The Philadelphia Conference Attempts to Discipline the Camden Brother Who Is at the Service of Eloping Couples—The Charges Not Sustained on characters of supernumerary preachers connected with the Philadelphia M. E. Conference this morning, Rev. J. R. Gray offered objection when the name of Rev. W. K. Burrell, of Camden, N. J., was presented, and the matter was referred to a committee of nine. The committee returned before the close of the morning session with a report'recommending that Mr. Burrell's character be not passed, and that in accordance with an article of the discipline that his case be referred to the Presiding Elder of his district to be proceeded against as the discipline directs, as the want of testimony prevented a trial before conference.

The committee's reasons for the report were that no certificate of Mr. Burrell's character had been offered by his Presiding Elder and that there was no time to hear the statements of persons who feel aggravated against Mr. Burrell's performing the marriage ceremony.
Dr. McConnell offered a substitute that the matter be postponed until the committee ascertain whether a certificate of character could be secured from the Presiding Elder.

On Dr. T. B. Neely's amendment the report was then recommitted to the Committee of Inquiry and a messenger dispatched to Camden for Mr. Burrell, who will be given an opportunity to defend himself.

Mr. Burrell has obtained considerable notoriety by performing marriage cere-monies for couples who cross the river to New Jersey, thus avoiding the strict mar-riage laws of Pennsylvania. Many minors who could not have been married here have availed themselves of Mr. Burrell's

At the afternoon session Bishop Wolden instructed the conference that as there were no charges preferred against Mr. Burrell, it could not refuse to pass his character, and it was so ordered, although he received no station as a supernumerary owing to his residence in Camden. The conference also refused to restore the parchment of Richard Morley, a local preacher from whom the document had been taken two years before for improper teaching. J. S. McCullough was continued as editor of the Philadelphia Methodist, G. Snowden Thomas, of the Pen-insular Methodist, and D. I. B. Pepper, of the Christian Standard. The report of the committee on statistics showed 6,430 probationers, 51,127 members, 359 churches, valued at $5,045,286 and indebtedness of
